Class Features

Weapon and Armor Proficiency: Mystic warriors are proficient with dagger, dart, quarterstaff, shuriken and sling. They are not proficient with any armor or shields. When wearing armor, using a shield or carrying a medium or heavy load, a mystic warrior loses their AC bonus, as well as their fast movement, River's Unstoppable Flow and Lightning Strikes Twice abilities.

AC Bonus (Ex): When unarmored and unencumbered, a mystic warrior adds their Wisdom bonus (if any) to their AC. In addition, a mystic warrior gains a +1 bonus to AC, which increases by 1 for every five mystic warrior levels thereafter (+2 at 6th, +3 at 11th, and +4 at 16th level). These bonuses to AC apply even against touch attacks or when the mystic warrior is flat-footed. They lose these bonuses when they are immobilized or helpless, when they wear any armor, when they carry a shield, or when they carry a medium or heavy load.

Fast Movement (Ex): A mystic warrior gains an enhancement bonus to their speed, starting at +10 ft. and increasing with levels, as shown on Table: The Mystic Warrior. A mystic warrior in armor or carrying a medium or heavy load loses this extra speed.

Keep in mind that for each 10 feet speed beyond 30 feet you gain a +4 bonus to Jump checks.

River's Unstoppable Flow (Ex): When unarmored and unencumbered, a mystic warrior may strike more rapidly at the expense of accuracy. When using a full attack, they may choose to strike an additional time at their highest bonus, but every attack they make this round takes a -2 penalty. This penalty applies for 1 round, so it also affects attacks of opportunity the mystic warrior might make before their next action.

When using river's unstoppable flow, a mystic warrior may attack only with unarmed strikes or weapons granted by mystic warrior proficiencies (dagger, dart, quarterstaff, shuriken and sling).

When a mystic warrior reaches 11th level, the river's flow improves. In addition to the standard single extra attack they get, they get a second extra attack made at a further -5 penalty, in addition to the usual -2 penalty.

Unarmed Strike: At 1st level, a mystic warrior gains Improved Unarmed Strike as a bonus feat. For a mystic warrior, their whole body is a weapon and their unarmed strikes are not limited to punches and kicks. This means that a mystic warrior may even make unarmed strikes with their hands full.

While a mystic warrior usually deals nonlethal damage, this is not for a lack of capability and they can choose to deal lethal damage with no penalty on their attack rolls. This extends to dealing damage while grappling as well.

A mystic warrior’s unarmed strike is treated both as a manufactured weapon and a natural weapon for the purpose of spells and effects that enhance or improve either manufactured weapons or natural weapons.

A mystic warrior also deals more damage with their unarmed strikes than a normal person would, as shown on Table: The Mystic Warrior. See the table below for Small or Large mystic warriors' damage.

Table: Small or Large Mystic Warrior Unarmed Damage

Level	Damage (Small)	Damage (Large)
1-9	1d4	1d8
10-12	1d6	2d6
13-15	1d10	3d6
16-20	2d6	4d6

Weapon Finesse: At 1st level, a mystic warrior gains Weapon Finesse as a bonus feat, allowing them to add their Dexterity bonus to attack rolls made with light weapons, rather than Strength.

Weight of the World (Ex): A mystic warrior has spent tremendous time on understanding the world and their place in it. With this understanding came the weight that fuels their strikes. When attacking with a weapon they can use with River's Unstoppable Flow, they add their Wisdom bonus to their damage, rather than Strength.

Font of Health (Su): At 2nd level or higher, a mystic warrior can heal their own wounds. They can heal a number of hit points of damage equal to twice their current mystic warrior level each day, and they can spread this healing out among several uses.

At 10th level, they can heal triple their mystic warrior level each day, and can activate this ability as a move action.

At 18th level, they can heal four times their mystic warrior level each day, and can activate this ability as a free action, even while unconscious.

Evasion (Ex): At 2nd level or higher if a mystic warrior makes a successful Reflex saving throw against an attack that normally deals half damage on a successful save, they instead take no damage. Evasion can be used only if a mystic warrior is wearing light armor or no armor. A helpless mystic warrior does not gain the benefit of evasion.

At 9th level, a mystic warrior’s evasion ability improves. They still take no damage on a successful Reflex saving throw against attacks, but henceforth they take only half damage on a failed save. A helpless mystic warrior does not gain the benefit of improved evasion.

Bonus Feats: Starting at 3rd level, a mystic warrior can improve their fighting style via combat feats. They may initially select from Combat Reflexes, Improved Grapple, Snatch Arrows or Stunning Fist. At 6th level, add Improved Disarm, Improved Sunder and Improved Trip to the list of available feats. A mystic warrior need not have any of the prerequisites normally required for these feats to select them through this feature.

Keep in mind that Improved Disarm, Improved Grapple, Improved Sunder, Improved Trip and Stunning Fist have special clauses for mystic warrior characters that apply regardless of how they are obtained.

Diamond Mind (Ex): A mystic warrior of 3rd level or higher gains a +2 bonus on saving throws against spells and effects from the school of enchantment.

Slow Fall (Ex): At 3rd level or higher, a mystic warrior within arm’s reach of a wall can use it to slow their descent. When first using this ability, they take damage as if the fall were 20 feet shorter than it actually is. The mystic warrior’s ability to slow their fall (that is, to reduce the effective distance of the fall when next to a wall) improves with their mystic warrior level until at 19th level they can use a nearby wall to slow their descent and fall any distance without harm.

Mystic Strikes (Su or Ex): At 4th level, a mystic warrior’s internal convictions turn into external strength. Their unarmed attacks are treated as magic weapons for the purpose of dealing damage to creatures with damage reduction. This is a supernatural effect. Mystic strikes improves with the character’s mystic warrior level.

At 7th level, pick either piercing or slashing: unarmed strikes now deal that damage type, as well as bludgeoning. This is an extraordinary effect.

At 10th level, a mystic warrior's unarmed attacks are also treated as lawful and cold iron weapons for the purpose of dealing damage to creatures with damage reduction. This is a supernatural effect.

At 13th level, a mystic warrior's combat stances reach the utmost potential and deal bludgeoning, piercing and slashing damage simultaneously. This is an extraordinary effect.

At 16th level, their unarmed attacks are treated as adamantine weapons for the purpose of dealing damage to creature with damage reduction and bypassing hardness. This is an extraordinary effect.

Peace Within (Ex): At 5th level, a mystic warrior gains immunity to all diseases except for supernatural and magical diseases. At 12th level, immunity extends to supernatural and magical diseases as well.

Lightning Strikes Twice (Ex): At 6th level, an unarmored, unencumbered mystic warrior may strike a single opponent twice as a standard action. Make a single attack roll with a -4 penalty to determine if both strikes hit or miss. If a ranged weapon is used, the target must be within 30 feet.

Damage reduction and other resistances apply separately against each strike. Regardless of the number of strikes you make, you apply precision-based damage (such as from sneak attack) only once. If you score a critical hit, only the first strike deals critical damage; all others deal regular damage.

Starting at 16th level, you may strike thrice but your attack penalty increases to -6 if you do so.

Weapon Focus: At 7th level, a mystic warrior gains Weapon Focus, as a bonus feat, for their unarmed strikes. If they already have Weapon Focus (Unarmed Strike), they get to choose another weapon that they can use with River's Unstoppable Flow.

Diamond Body (Su): At 8th level, a mystic warrior gains immunity to poisons of all kinds.

Walk The Earth (Sp): At 8th level or higher, a mystic warrior can slip magically between spaces, casting dimension door once per day. Their caster level for this is one-half their mystic warrior level (rounded down).

Diamond Soul (Su): At 13th level, a mystic warrior's defenses reach their pinnacle, they become like diamond in body, mind and soul. The mystic warrior gains spell resistance equal to their current mystic warrior level + 10. In addition, a mystic warrior can pick confidants up to their Wisdom bonus to open their souls to and exclude from this spell resistance. A mystic warrior can assign or remove one confidant in a day-long ritual that they both attend.

Walk The Beyond (Sp): At 14th level, a mystic warrior gains the ability to assume an ethereal state for 1 round per mystic warrior level per day, as though using the spell ethereal jaunt. They may go ethereal on a number of different occasions during any single day, as long as the total number of rounds spent in an ethereal state does not exceed their mystic warrior level.

Tongue of the Sun and Moon (Su and Ex): Some say there is only one real language under the sun, and the mystics agree. A mystic warrior of 15th level or higher can speak with any living, sentient creature (Su). This ability does not extend to reading and writing. They also add their Wisdom bonus to Diplomacy checks, in addition to their Charisma (Ex).

Until The End Of Days (Ex): Upon attaining 17th level, a mystic warrior no longer takes penalties to their ability scores for aging and cannot be magically aged. Any such penalties that they have already taken, however, remain in place. Bonuses still accrue, and the mystic warrior still dies of old age when their time is up.

Perfect Self: At the zenith of their power, a mystic warrior's mortality becomes optional. For the purpose of spells and magical effects, they are treated as either their original type or as an outsider (native), whichever is more beneficial to them. Additionally, they gain damage reduction 10/chaos or epic.

Finally, at the (natural or violent) end of their life they can choose to immediately shift to a lawful outer plane matching their morality where they reside for 100 years and 1 day. During this period they cannot leave the plane except by being brought back to life through true resurrection, miracle or wish spells. If they are slain during this period, they are eternally lost. Once this period elapses, they materialize back on their native plane, physically at their adulthood age. Going through this death and rebirth cycle even once grants them all aging bonuses and removes any aging penalties they've accrued previously. Afterwards, they stop gaining aging bonuses and penalties.

Ex-Mystic Warriors

A mystic warrior who becomes nonlawful cannot gain new levels as a mystic warrior until finds inner peace and becomes lawful again. They lose access to river's unstoppable (or great) flow and lightning strike twice (or thrice), but retain all other mystic warrior abilities.

Like a member of any other class, mystic warriors may be a multiclass character, but a mystic warrior leaving the path of perfection behind by increasing another class level (including prestige classes) may never again raise their mystic warrior level, though they retains all their mystic warrior abilities.
